

FORMA Zero 20mm Collection

Zero crystalline silica engineered surfaces — the marble looks, warm neutrals and structured stones you specify, at a single price point.

The next generation of engineered surfaces

FORMA Zero is our zero crystalline silica engineered stone — delivering the consistency, durability and effortless maintenance designers expect, reformulated around a mineral composition that removes crystalline silica from the equation.

The 20mm collection is engineered for benchtops, islands and feature surfaces where presence matters. Produced in a jumbo 3200 × 1600mm format, each surface offers the depth and movement of natural stone with the performance of an engineered material.

Every FORMA Zero slab is available to view at our Brooklyn warehouse, ten minutes from Melbourne CBD, alongside our porcelain, natural stone and terrazzo collections.
